Lowern SELLS THE PICTURES.—The red flag was displayed from the City Hall yesterday in satisfaction of the execution for $200,000, held against the City by Robert W. Lowber. This sale was to have occurred on the 4th day of October inst., but has been postponed from day to day until the present time. At 1 o'clock, there were probably seventy persons in the Governor's Boom, in which the first sale of property was to be made; and all kinds of speculations were rife as to who would be the purchasers, and whether the whole thing would not end in a farce; while others deprecated the action of the City authorities in permitting the sale. All speculations were soon routed, however, by the actioneer, Mr. Veitch, who mounted the chair and stated the cause of the sale, the terms (which were cash down), and the articles in the Governor's Room, predicting the portraits of the Presidents of the United States, the Governors of this State, and other eminent get of the past and present ages, which he said would lesold in one lot. Bidding then commenced at $10,000. and run up to $50,000, which was the highest bid, and was made by Richard Scott, Clerk in the Mayor's office, to whom all the property was sold. The sale of the other property in the City Hall was then postponed until further notice. The crowd then began to disperse, smewhat disappointed that they had not had a chance to bid on some of the pictures separately. Some alleged that it was not a bona fide sale, but was only put through the motions to raise the wind for Lowber. It is understood that the bid of Mr. Seat was made at the instance of the Mayor, who has done everything possible in his power to prevent the sale, as he values the portraits very highly, and is opposed to their changing bands. Mr. Lowber was present during the sale, and made the first bid of $10,000. During the sule, Deputy Sheriff Vultee presided. The pictures and furniture were in a state of great exufusion in consequence of the late five, from the effects of which they have not yet recovered. It is stated that previous to the sale Mr. Lowber called upon Mr. A. V. Stout, City Chamberlain, and made last but fruitless effort to obtain the payment of the judgment, so as to prevent the sale. Mr. Stout intimated that he would be willing to advance the money on a Controller's warrant, which he would hold a year; but on application to the Controller found him more doggedly determined not to pay than ever. Mr. Stout could do nothing for Mr. Lowber, and the same proceeded. Mr. Scott paid the $50,000 down, and Mr. Lowber left the Hall with the money in his

SUSPECTED OF BEING COUNTERPEITERS,-On Tuesday afternoon, an Irish woman named Margaret Baras went into the pork store of Mr. Jamieson, in West Thirty-eighth street, and offered a begustwentyfive cent piece in payment for a piece of pork. The counterfeit being det eted by the pork butcher, Margaret was handed over to the custody of Officer Depuy of the Twentieth Precinct, Subsequently, Officer Depay, accompanied by another officer, repaired to habitation of Mrs. Burns, in the basement of a rear house in Forty-second street, near the Tenth avenue, and there instituted a minute search, which resulted in the discovery of several plaster molds for five, ten and twenty-five cent pieces; also, dies for cents. The dies and molds were secreted in the oven of a large cooking stove. In other portions of the premises the officers found some counterfeat pennics and other coin, and a quantity of the base metal used in the manufacture of the same. The officers also arrested Michael Burns, Margaret's husband, and a man named John Dork, who had been frequently seen going in and out of the premises, and is suspected of assisting in the manufacture of the bogus coin. The parties were yesterday morning taken to the Jefferson Market Police Court, when Justice Kelly, after taking the affidavit of the officer, sent the case before the United Blates Commissioner.

For some time past counterfeit bills of the denomina-Onondaga Bank, Lee Bank, Market Bank of Troy and Windham County Back, have been freely circulated, tot only in this city but about the country, and all attempts on the part of the police to discover the Officers Roach and Poole of the detective force came acress a weman named Julia Ackerman, who informed them that the "queer" was uttered by Louisa Garrett and her husband Hiram Garrett. Yesterday worning the officers proceeded to Hyde Park and arrested Mr and Mrs. Garrett, and arraigned them before Justice Kelly, at the Jefferson Market Police Court. Mrs. Ackerman alleges that she has seen Mrs. Garrett pass some of the bills in question at the store of Mr. Clark, No. 257 Ninth avenue, and at other places, in payment for linen and sundry small articles. The case is under lavestigation before Justice Kelly, and the parties are will in custody. Garrett is the same person who was ant to State Prison from Buffalo for a term of 15 years, but was pardoned by Gov. Hunt.

DANGEROUSLY INJURED .- A few days ago, Frank McHenry, with several of his friends, went into a perter-house in the Ninth Ward, and while there a quarrel took place between them. During the row, was John Devine, as is alleged, seized a large wooden mallet, called a "bung-starter," with which he struck McHenry a powerful blow on the left temple. Officer Hanifen of the Ninth Precinct was called in and artested Devine, whom Justice Kelly subsequently commatted to prison. Morris McHenry, a brother of Frank, to witnessing the assault, and a certificate from Dr. Johnston was produced in Court setting forth that McHenry was confined to his bed in an insensible condition, and that he was so badly injured that there was but little chance of his recovery. Yesterday afternoon several of the friends of the accused appeared at Court, and applied for the liberation of Devine on bail. The Magistrate said that on Tuesday night he visited McHenry and found him still insensible, and added that he would not liberate the accused un'ess Dr. Johnston and another physician would testify that the man would be able to get about in a few days.

CHIEF-OF-POLICE WRITNEY RETURNS WITH JAS. MCMARON—CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE PURSUIT AND ARREST.—Our renders will remember that on Sunday evening, the 19th alt., a most brutal nurrier was com-nitted upon the person of Ann McMalon in Chambers street, in this city. Information was immediately given to the Chief-of-Police Whitney, who dispatched given to the Chiefof-Police Whitney, who dispatched officers to the spot, making several arrests of parties believed to be cognizant of the affair. The next day the Chief proceeded to New-York and arrested several of the family, who were examined before the Coroner. The evidence furnished soon developed the whole material circumstances of the affair, and on Friday the evidence of Kertzendorfer and his wife completely established the fact that the marder was committed by tance McMahon.

tablished the fact that the marger was James McMahon.

Such was the verdict of the Coroner's Jury, and in the mean time officers were in pursuit of the criminal. He had been seen in New-York the day after the murder, but beyond this nothing could be learned. It is now known that on the night of the murder he walked down to New-York on the plankroad, hiding by the way whenever a wagon appeared; that he staid in down to New-York on the plankroad, hiding by the way whenever a wagon appeared; that he staid in New-York until the next day, when he left in the afternoon boat for Albany, and so proceeded West, accompanied by Philip McMahon, his brother. They had sufficient money to reach St. Louis, when they obtained employment as laborers in Illinois.

In the meantime the Chief of Police Whitney was most indefatigable in his exertions to obtain a clue to the bicing place of the criminal. He was, however.

most indefatigable in his exertions to obtain a clue to the biding place of the criminal. He was, however, entirely at fault until the 28th, when a letter was received in the New-York Post Office, postmarkel St. Lonis, directed to a brother-in law of James McMahon, without any signature, but making inquiries as to the health of the family, and asking for information as to the condition of affairs in this quarter, requesting that the answer should be directed for "John Reilly, Illi" nois Town, St. Clair County, Illinois." The handwriting and other circumstances conclusively proved that this came from James McMahon. The letter was forwarded to its destination, and Chief Whitney with Thomas Dunn, one of his aids, started for St. Louis the next merning, reaching there on Sunday morning the next merang, reaching there of Sunan merical the 3d of October. As it was probable that McMahon might still be in St. Louis, Chief Whitney remained there, but dispatched his assistant to Illinois Town to keep watch over the Post Office there. Some eight of the St. Louis detectives were employed in the task of securing the fugitive, but no signs of his being in St. Louis could be discovered.

In this condition of affairs Chief Whitney proceeded to Illinois Town, exercibly discussed with talse whis-to Illinois Town, carefully disguised with false whits-kers, a pair of excellent spectacles, &c. On Wednes-day night the Chief was informed that an application had been made at the Post-Office for a letter addressed to John Reinly, and the house where the person went was shown to him. In it resided a large number of Irish labarers on a railroad in the vicinity, and the next morning Mr. Whitney and his aid, who knew Mc-Mahon well, were waiting for his resuperance. Very soon Dunn said that he saw him, and pointed him out, Chief Whitney took him by the collar and said he wanted him. For a moment the arrested party was completely stunned, and finding resistance useless he quietly succumbed. In the meantime Officer Dunn had secured Philip McMahon, who was with him, and both were taken to St. Louis and properly secured. From this point the dispatch which we published was sent to Mayor Bigelow, and the same afternoon the efficers started for home with their prisoner. They traveled night and day, arriving Is this city late on Saterday night, and placing their prisoner in the to John Reidy and the house where the person went was shown to him. In it resided a large number of Saturday night, and placing their prisoner in the county prison. During his return the prisoner in the county prison. act.

The Court, Exort, J.—This is an action against each City of Brooken upon a judgment recovered against must City of Williamsburgh. The defendant democracy to City Court overraled the demorrer, and the defendant epacting to the rest, and I presents to Judge would me, in the Court of lest resert, no Judge would me, in the court of lest resert, no Judge would me, the court of lest resert, no Judge would me, the organic law forbids the regulation in a city charter of all the interest of consolidation is in the way of inclination rights, interests or obligations of the expressions to be consolidated to any detail which may be involved.

It is next contended that the pisintiff has mid-taken his remedy that a should have applied to the Supervisors and Common Coancil to levy this debt upon that District of the present City of Brooklyn, which was included in the former City of Willbausburgh. I have that if this application were refused, the coursel mean that a mandatums should leave. That can only be coursel mean that a mandatums should leave. That can only be course in weather the remedy.

A mentioning with not explained write the ordinary process for collecting corporate debta.

The questions therefore are, whether the present City of Brooklyn, by the act of consulidation, is made labe to creations of the former City of Williamsburgh, and if she whether this liability can be enforced by suit in the ordinary way, or whether any special mode is pointed out to these creditors, and they are entitled to that mode of asserting today rights. It is not assy to see how any doubt can exist upon the first of these questions. The act to consolidate the Cities of Breaklyn and Williamsburgh and the Town of Briskwick, Ac., Sees, Laves of 15th, th. 159, at see, 12 of Tule XI, (p. 962), craces that all liabilities of "either," that is, either the former tithes of Brooklyn or Williamsburgh or Town of Bushwick, in favor of intriparties, shall be assumed but enforced. And it may be observed that the present city stances in the piarce of the City of Williamsburgh, just as it does of the former City of Brooklyn. The identity of name makes no difference; the new city is to all intents the substitute of Williamsburgh and Bushwick, as it is that of the city whose same it has assumed. It is said that there are no existing funds out of which the defendant can pay this judgment against its produce exist, and that can hardly be supposed that the Legislature would pince a Municipal Corporation in such a situation as no towns to me, which the defendant can pay this judgment against the produce exist, and that it can hardly be supposed that the Legislature would pince a Municipal Corporation in such a situation as no towns to me, which the defendant can pay this judgment against the produce exist, and that it can hardly be supposed that the Legislature would pince a Municipal Corporation in such a situation as no necessitate a sale of its property by a Sheriff to pay its debts. It seems to me quite as increening the fact of a Municipal Corporation, by Sieudinia as in the sales.

sale of its property by a Sheriff to pay its debts. It seems to me quite as increabile that the Leptsiature would terminate the existence of a Mandripal Corporation, by bleading it with others into a new being, and leave in creditors without any remedy for their just debts, or would oblige them to wait the action of the authorities of the new mandripality, before they can obtain athorities of the new city is made to assume the debts of its their rights. The new city is made to assume the debts of its their rights. The new city is made to assume the debts of its predecessors, which it has absorbed, and it must see to provide means to pay tonce debts as it would its own when they are died. It is no answer to its creditors to say that he such provision has yet been made. There is nothing in the Charter continuing the creditors of the city to any new or peculiar remedy, or even confirming it upon them. Nor is the plaintiff obliged to resent to the district which was formerly the City of Walliamsburgh, or to the property which that district brought into the consolidation. That District has no longer a separate municipal existence. The act, fills xi, § 12, permits suits commence do for the consolication to be carried on at they were commenced to four disposance act, fills xi, § 11, permits suits commenced to four disposance acts and the theory of the consolication of the new city; and, by the provision of either of them. But that is a new rule of procedure. The already quoted, are to be enforced against it. The defendants will not contend here, that, after the indement had been recovered assists the City of Williamsburnia, as executing could have been tened and levied upon any property which that city brought into the comolidation, if that should be the law, it would not put the present City of Brooklyn in any bester would not put the present City of Brooklyn in any bester

There is a reference to the component parts of the consolidated resident to make for seval taxes and assessments to compare an emburrement. This is quite just and proper, but it would not be just not proper that the enrolled of the former eithes should be deprived of their remedies, or put to the delay of a settlement between the distinct of a new city before they can obtain what is due them. And, indeed, it is difficult to see how any sent existement or acjustment can be made by the members before the dobt are paid by the whole. After the claim of the plaintait has been paid by the present city, if it is in caces of the amount of property brought to the new municipality by the city which formerly fourned the debt the inhabitants of the district which formerly constituted that city must make good the defect to the Transary of the whole, of which they have been made a part.

But that is a very different thing from calling upon an extinct city in the first instance for its debts, or compelling its opedie.

The indigment of the City Court was right, and must be firmed.

Suc. I respectfully appeal to your courtesy and sense of justice for sufficient space in your columns to notice the extract published by you this morning from a New York paper, in reference to the Atlantic and Grent Western Railway. I received on Saturdaylast, from the United States, a copy of this publication, and instantly returned a full, definite and circumstantial refutation of the whole statement.

Upon the honor of a gentleman and my fidelity as: the chief financial efficer of the Company in question, I declare there is not a single item or feature of the statement which has been imposed upon your Now-York cotemperary that is true. I have given and promised no doucear whatever, anywhere, or in any horm. The only sacrifice I have made if such it can be enfled is that of having parted with the bonds of the Company at the rate of 75c. to the doilar, and agreeing to pay in London and Paris the same semi-annual rate of interest allowed by the Illinois Central Railway Company. And under all the contracts—now

There is nothing of interest to record of the Money market. It is very dull, very easy, and without variety. The banks hold rather less than $8,500,000 of specie. New-York funds have recently been quite atomaint, with a slack demand. Business ranges from one-half to two-thirds as much as it usually is in October. Complaints of dullness and comparative stagnation are not as loud, but are as frequent as ever. were some strong buyers appeared for a few of the leading fancies and the market assumed a more buoyant character. The Shorts were free buyers, and the attention of the public appears to be at last attracted to some extent to the speculation going on in the stock market. The commission houses are receiving more stagnation are not as loud, but are as frequent as ever. The West is not paying up, as the more sanguine expected it would a year ago. Our merchants will lose very heavily by Western enstomers, and present appearances at the West do not indicate a speedy revival, upon any large scale, of that naturally rich and active country.

The Beaton Journal has the following: orders to buy, although the increase is not yet important, and is neutralized to considerable extent by orders to sell from those who have been carrying stocks for some time, waiting for this rise. Some of the leading bears were putting out their contracts with considerable freedom, and the impression rather gained adherents that The Beaton Journal has the following:

We learn that the Suffolk Bank has notified the Bank of Mutual Redemption that for the present, and until further notice, it will send to the Mutual the bills of such banks as are redeemed by that institution, and that it will redeem for the Mutual the bills of such banks as keep their a counts with the Suffolk. This virtually yields the whole point at issue in the bank war. The Suffolk Bank yesterday presented about $411,000 of the bills of country banks to the Bank of Mutual Redemption for payment. The demand, although unexpected, was promptly complied with. The payment was made in gold to the amount of $2.06,000, and $105,000 in Clearing-Housecertificates. To-day large amounts of species, which had been accumulating in the vaults of the country banks in the expectation of a call from the Suffolk, have been transferred to the new bank.

The Empire State rays of the Exchange Bank of the present upward movement was exhausted. The bulls, however, sustained the market with considerable vigor, and after the Second Board, which was a dull and heavy session, a strong raily was established, with an advance in some cases of 124 F cent from the lowest point of the day. At the close the market was very firm. Between the Boards the market was heavy. In Central the market shows at the close an improvement of 1 P cent on yesterday. There are rumors current in the street as to the result of the September traffic, but they are too vague to be printed. Reading was heavy, but became firmer at the close. The tunnage on the of the week, it is stated, will exceed 40,000 tuns. Cash stock is more pleuty, some parcels baving come overfrom Philadelphia. Land-Grant bondholders was very general. It was considered as placing the stockholders and creditors in the strongest position possible, to claim in return from the bondholders due consideration of them in the readjustment and reorganization which the embarrassment of the Road, because of the great panic and consequent commercial revulsion of last year had made necessary to its completion and success.

"By such surrender the road, its property and carnings were placed beyond the reach of any combination of sharks or wholly irresponsible speculators, seeking possession under plausible protenses, that they might grasp its earnings or plange it into some desperate visionary scheme, to serve their own purposes and ends, regardless of copsequences to others, provided they profited by it.

"The Trustees now in charge are not at present obliged or disposed to sell the road, but propose to conduct it with g only increased economy, because of their entire freedom from debt and the annoyances of suits, judgments, executions and lovies which had rendered it impossible for the Directors longer to do sountil some agreement between bondholders, stockholders and creditors shall have been arrived at, which shall be liberal and equitable and shall secure the harmony, cooperation and aid of all in the fature welfare and progress of this important work.

"Committees of stockholders were proposed from along the line, to cooperate with a Committee of the Directors, and with trustees and bondholders in carrying forward this work of expiralization and reorganization to a successful conclusion."
